STOWAWAY FROM AUSTRALIA

J. A. Thompson, one of the Circuit Court clerks, while strolling on the wharf Sunday, discovered a strange looking insect which he managed to capture. He gave it to Prof. Koebele for inspection. The examination proved that it was a rare avis in this section of the universe, being the only specimen ever found in these islands.

It is of the centipede family and belongs to the genus Henicops. It is about one and one half inches in length and wears fifteen pairs of legs. Prof. Koebele thinks it came as a stowaway on some of the Australian steamers.
